-  Seacourt/Thornhill Park & Ride bus stops
-  Peartree/Redbridge Park & Ride bus stops
-  Park & Ride car parks
-  Public car parks

Arriving by train

On leaving the train station, King Charles House is a modern red brick building on the corner of Park End Street and Hollybush Row, and opposite the Royal Oxford Hotel.

Arriving by coach

The Oxford Tube and Oxford Bus companies run regular 24-hour services to/from London Victoria coach station. Both companies also run coaches to and from Heathrow and Gatwick airports.

Arriving by car

If you have to travel by car, we recommend use of the Park & Ride services provided: Seacourt (route no. 400) is best (the car park is on the west side of the city at Botley where the A420 meets the ring road). The 400 bus service is frequent and takes c.10 minutes (ask for the stop nearest Oxford rail station).

If you are not able to use the Park & Ride service, Pay and Display parking is available next to Oxford station in Becket Street, but you will need to produce a valid rail ticket to exit to avoid being surcharged. There is also limited parking in Oxford City Centre (under the bus/coach station, at Worcester Street, or Westgate), but these car parks are expensive and often crowded.
